Eco-friendly Greenlam features a wide range of high pressure laminates in both solid and wood grain textures. With an NAF substrate (no added formaldehyde) and an edge banding that contains no chlorine, heavy metals or formaldehyde, Greenlam helps support a clean air indoor environment.

In addition, the producer takes a number of steps to reduce their impact on the environment, including using alternative fuels, recycling and participating in reforestation projects.

Over 20 Greenlam patterns are offered in our custom Millennia frameless line.

The colors and wood grain patterns shown here represent just a handful of the options available. With so many choices, it's easy to mix and match laminates to create unique, personalized spaces like these!
